

Preceptorship lead

Nichola Thomason

Preceptorship development lead
Mersey Care NHS Foundation Trust

As preceptorship development lead, my role is to provide all preceptees within Mersey Care with a standardised programme of preceptorship, which includes specific competencies, structured learning, and wellbeing and pastoral support.

Preceptors are also supported as part of the Mersey Care In Pursuit of Excellence preceptorship programme.

What has the impact of preceptorship been on you personally?

With a background of mental health nursing, working within a variety of clinical and operational roles, preceptorship has always been a part of my career.

I have personally experienced the celebrations and achievements of when a preceptee is supported throughout their first year and unfortunately also seen the impact of when this is not the case.

Due to my experiences I am passionate about every preceptee within Mersey Care receiving a standardised preceptorship that also supports them individually and positively impacts their wellbeing, equipping them with skills for a life-long career within the NHS.

In pursuit of excellence, striving for excellence and perfect care for patients and staff.”
